The Show Goes On Productions announces THEATRE ROCK, Thru the Ages, August 15th at 9:00pm, part of the ROCK TONIC Series.

After a short hiatus, the ROCK TONIC Series returns with the wild antics of the Theatre Rock Live gang. THEATRE ROCK, Thru the Ages is the sixth show in the series and marks the first in the new Hybrid Club, at 669 8th Ave, between 42nd and 43rd Streets. The show is Saturday, August 15th at 9pm. People are encouraged to arrive early to enjoy the many $5 drink specials being offered. Tickets are $15 and on sale now at www.showgoesonproductions.com, or by calling 866-811-4111.

Theatre Rock celebrates the dynamic genre of Rock Musicals through the ages. Covering the best music from the 1970's through today, the show delivers a powerful and meaningful performance not to be missed! James Grausam guest hosts the musical journey.

Featured vocalists include Dan Vissers, Dave Murgittroyd, Lindsay Lavin, and Carol Wei. Joe Andolino is music director and plays keyboard, alongside Kosaku Nakamura on guitar, Tynan Hooker-Haring on bass, and Jason Gianni on drums.

Theatre Rock Live has toured the tri-state area, and is currently in residence at Toshi's Living Room. To hear and see a preview of their awesome performances, check out their website at www.theatrerocklive.com.

The ROCK TONIC series was launched to promote indie artists through interactive and multimedia music events. Each concert integrates a story line or concept with theatrical elements and video designed to gently provoke the senses.

The Show Goes On Productions produces theatrical concerts and events that embrace emerging trends in entertainment. In-house works merge music and theatre in innovative and immersive environments. By utilizing a new business model, TSGO strives to be a leader in alternative producing and indie music. Committed to the production of story-telling through music, TSGO also offers consulting for developing cross-over artists in music, theatre, and film.
